

An aerial, high-angle photograph of a modern lounge or bar. The space features a long, curved, striped sofa in the center. Several round white tables are scattered throughout, with people sitting at them. Some people are looking at their phones, while others are engaged in conversation. The lighting is warm and ambient, with a mix of natural and artificial light. The overall color palette is dominated by warm tones like orange, brown, and beige, with some cooler tones from the sofa and walls.

Sustainability

Designed with Tomorrow in Mind.

Sustainability is considered across the way we design, source materials and deliver environments. Through responsible material choices, thoughtful product development, project applications and CSR initiatives, we continue to explore practical ways to create lasting value for people, spaces and the communities around us.

Designing a Better World

Our promise of Better Design, Better Value, Better World reaches beyond furniture — into the communities we live in, and into the projects we build alongside our clients.

In Our Communities

Epic Homes — Malaysia.

Every family deserves a place to call home. Partnering with Epic Homes, we sent 30 KIAN volunteers into rural Malaysia — trading desks for hammers and nails to build a house for an Orang Asli family, Malaysia's indigenous people, in just three days. It is our way of giving back to the communities where we operate. Because we are always Better Together.

With Our Clients

McDonald's — Wenzhou, China

McDonald's 4,000th restaurant in China needed furniture that met global quick-service durability standards while visibly demonstrating sustainable principles to every customer. We supplied seating made from Ocean-Bound Plastic, alongside a children's chair moulded from discarded Happy Meal toys. The outlet became the first in the Yangtze River Delta to earn LEED Gold certification.

Shatin Municipal Hall — Hong Kong

The Shing Mun River carries close to 17 million pieces of plastic towards the ocean each year. Rather than design around that problem, we designed with it. Working with HIR Studio, we built a local collection chain that gathered 500kg of household plastic from Sha Tin in two months and upcycled it into 12 bespoke benches, their interlocking curves shaped to echo the river's ripples. Visitors now rest on the very plastic that once threatened their waterway.
